additional twelve (12) hours of EMS for a total of twenty-four (24) hours of EMS CE within the last twenty-four (24) months and shall pass the written and skills examinations required for initial certification.

- C. Applicants who have allowed their certification to expire beyond twenty-four (24) months shall complete all of the requirements of initial certification including successful completion of an approved EMR training course.

IV. Certification Dates:

- A. The effective date of the initial EMR certification shall be the date the certificate is issued after the individual has satisfactorily completed all certification requirements and has applied for certification. The certification expiration date will be the final day of the final month of the two-year period, except in the following instances:
1. For applicants meeting the requirements for maintaining certification greater than six months prior to expiration, the effective date of certification shall be the date the applicant satisfactorily completes all requirements and has applied for certification and the certification is issued. The new certification expiration shall be the final day of the final month of the two-year period.
- V. Falsification of any of the certification/recertification documents may result in the denial of the application.
